

The emotion wheel allows us to break down our emotions into more specific categories, making it easier to pinpoint exactly what we are experiencing.

Start in the center of the wheel and work your way to the outer circle.

